Sunday May 20th Bee Day

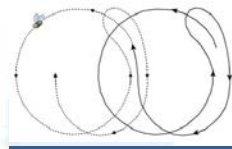

Bees are vital to our wellbeing and survival in this world and still there are many people who's first choice is to spray pesticides and other toxic chemicals around, these are harming and killing off our bees.

Celebrate Bee Day with your friends, family and community on Sunday 20th May.

Enjoy a morning tea with scones and honey / Plant some flowers that attract Bees / Draw pictures of Bees / Create a Bee Art show / Inform and educate... click here

Bees are dying out – Our lives depend on them – Celebrate and Show you Care

Garden Circles

Join in the fun at a Garden Circle...the last couple of weeks have been great with schoolchildren joining the little's ones working in the garden and showing them 'how it is done'. There has been lots of food to pick and taste... new flavours that even the pickiest eaters enjoy... they have grown them, watered them and nurtured them to fruiting. We continue to run through the School holidays. Join us at a garden Parents & Children (grandparents too). For more click here

Choices

Each day we are faced with making Choices. Sometimes it is difficult to know which way to go and external pressures move us in different directions.

What choices do you make? Are they the best choice for you?

Who is doing the choosing? Is it your head or your heart?

Remember your heart makes the best choices for you.

In April, our dedicated Volunteers were Inspirational at the Collectors Plant Fair at the Hawkesbury Racecourse.

It was a wonderful event with plants for sale and on display that you rarely ever see, let alone have the opportunity to buy. The scarceness of the varieties brings together plant lovers from around Australia... people queue up hours prior to opening, waiting for the gates to open, just to find that special plant they are after.

Would you like to go on our helpers list for April 2019? Be quick as it is filling up

Have a wonderful month,

Judith & the COL Team
